

Telecommunication Technologies Group

To Whom it May Concern:

Don Milnor worked with the Christian event Summit on the development of our website and planning during 2003. Not only did Don add, edit, and manage content, he developed several useful tools.

One extremely valuable tool Don developed on his own, because he recognized the need, was an online registration system. This system allows registrants to register online instead of via telephone. Not only was this helpful to registrants, but it freed up a lot of phone time for our volunteers. If you have ever worked on a large-scale organizational event you know that people and time are your most valuable assets.

I appreciate Don's unique ability to take his technical knowledge and apply it to whatever situation confronts him. His adaptability to various skill levels and ability to communicate at all levels make him invaluable to our organization.

Should Summit ever be in a position to have paid staff Don would be one of the first people I would approach. I know he can be an asset to any organization. Please do not hesitate to call me should you have any question or require further information. I serve as Chairman of Summit and am President of a small telecommunication consulting firm called Telecommunication Technologies Group. I can be reached at 614-825-1000.

Sincerely,

Brad Hayes
